Introduction

Purpose of the Community Plan

The purpose of the Foster Community Plan is to set out the community's shared vision for Foster's future and highlight the priorities we believe will make our town stronger, more connected and sustainable.

The Plan has been created by the community, for the community, with local input via a community survey, conversations and a community planning event. Supported by the South Gippsland Shire Council and local organisations, the plan reflects what matters most to Foster residents and provides a clear guide for future projects, decision-making and advocacy.

The benefits of developing a community plan for Foster include:

- Identifying future projects that may benefit the community
- Encouraging local and external partnerships
- Funders are more likely to support communities that have a clear, locally endorsed plan
- Building on our progressive community culture
- A plan demonstrates an understanding of interest areas to new community members and funding partners

Who facilitated the development of the Foster Community Plan

The Foster Community Planning Group facilitated the development of the Community Plan (the Plan) which included Joanne Stringer, Emma McKay, Shane Doherty and Dana Hughes.

Methodology

The community of Foster was consulted between August to November 2025, using several different tools. These included face-to-face conversations with community leaders and members, service groups and conversations with people on the streets of Foster.

A Community Survey (the Survey) was conducted during the month of September 2025, with 210 people responding, which is 10% of Foster's population.

The Survey was advertised via a letter box drop in Foster. There were a series of press releases and advertising in Prom Coast News during August and September, which has over 2,100 readers.

Both the Survey and the Community Planning Event were promoted on the Foster Community Facebook page and the Foster Community Planning Group's Facebook page.

Key community groups were identified who we met with and discussed the Survey and the Community Planning Event. These groups included the Foster RSL, Foster U3A, South Gippsland Community Health Foundation and Manna Gum Community House. We also attended the Do It Deadly event held at Foster Secondary School, to raise awareness with school students. Organisations supported the distribution of the survey through their networks, such as the local schools and South Gippsland hospital which was equivalent to more than 200 families.

The results from the engagement strategies were presented to the community at the Foster Community Planning Event on November 15, 2025. Over 270 people attended the event to add their ideas to the information already gathered.

The Slogan & Philosophy

The Planning Group adopted the slogan, “Behind every good idea is someone who believed enough to act.” The message is simple: making a difference starts with taking action — whether it's a small act or a bigger one. It's easy to make a wish list, but without action, nothing will change.

Foster is the community it is today because people in the past chose to act. Previous community plans show what can happen when ideas are backed by community spirit and people working together. We hope this community plan will do the same — turn ideas into action for the future of Foster

About Foster

Foster, a rural town, is 170 km south-east of Melbourne on the South Gippsland Highway, 45 km north of Tidal River, Wilson's Promontory. As the main shopping centre in the area, Foster is a short drive from other popular attractions, including Wilsons Prom, Shallow Inlet, Corner Inlet, Sandy Point and Waratah Bay and Victoria's highest waterfall, Agnes Falls. Foster is blessed with magnificent beaches, ancient forests, rich soil, abundant rainfall and vibrant, caring community.

Survey Results

The community survey was offered both online and as a paper copy. People could access it through a web link or by scanning a QR code. Some community members were unsure about using the QR code. So hard copies were available on request and from Manna Gum Community House. The awareness campaign was supported by local business owners with the slogan "I've completed my survey, have you?"

A total of 210 people completed the survey, representing a broad cross section of the community. While fewer people under 24 took part, efforts were made to include younger voices by sending invitations to school families and attending a music performance to gather their ideas as well as publicising it through both the secondary and primary schools.

Most people who responded to the survey were aged over 44, which reflects the average age of the community. To make sure younger voices were included, the planning group reached out through local schools and activity groups. At the Community Planning Event, younger people clearly identified the need for a skate park and shade sails at the pool

About You How long have you been connected to Foster?

209 responses

The question “What do you love about Foster?” revealed strong shared themes, while also highlighting the wide range of places, services and traditions people value. Community organisations such as Manna Gum Community House, the Community Bank Toora and Foster, the medical precinct and Foster’s strong farming culture and local businesses were repeatedly mentioned as things people are proud of and appreciated.

What do you love about Foster?

Note: Other included comments such as Church, Angie (at IGA), Community House and away from the big city

What are Foster's strengths?

The strongest message from the community was: Foster's greatest strength is its sense of community. Respondents said that it's the community itself that makes Foster such a special place.

A close second was the range of services available for a town of this size. The medical precinct which includes South Gippsland Hospital, Foster Medical Centre and Prom Country Aged Care was highlighted as a major asset. Overall, the feedback showed that for many of the respondents Foster is a strong, connected community supported by excellent local services.

What are Foster's Strengths

“Foster has everything:- schools, kindergarten, shops, medical centre, hospital, sports venues- golf, footy bowls basketball tennis, an aged care facility, shops and a bank.” Survey respondent

Challenges Facing Foster

Respondents were asked about the challenges Foster is facing right now. One of the greatest concerns was the economic health of the retail area. Comments varied — some people mentioned empty shops, others wanted more variety in food options or more outdoor dining. There was also recognition that it can be difficult for business owners to stay open for long hours but the desire for longer hours was expressed.

Other comments centred around the importance of maintaining the small town feel when the population is growing, young people leaving town and for some the experience of not being welcomed. Crime was another issue raised, particularly in the survey responses, with people expressing concerns about public safety.

Note: The survey was conducted in September 2025 when there was a spate of break-ins and car thefts, which is unusual for Foster. Community anxiety was heightened and was therefore evident in the survey. Vic Police commented on the issue in the Prom Coast News September 2026 outlining that these crimes had been committed by one individual who has subsequently been apprehended.

“It's a welcoming and friendly community. Also, the hospital, medical precinct and aged care facility are extraordinary for a town this size.”

Community Values

The key values identified through the Survey were:

- Caring and connected
- Inclusive and welcoming
- Sustainable and resilient
- Creative and enterprising
- Respectful of our environment and heritage

Project Themes

Several key themes emerged through the Survey. These themes were then presented at the Community Planning Event. Within each theme there were a variety of potential projects or actions. The themes and types of projects are summarised below

“Meeting the needs of the expanding population i.e. need more medical services, childcare services, allied health services” Survey Respondent

Supported by

Action, Advocacy and Timing

Projects differ in what's needed to initiate, implement and maintain. Some can be implemented by an existing community group right now, while others are beyond a group or the town's control. In those cases, a group can still speak up and advocate for change.

The power of collective thinking was demonstrated at the Community Planning Event where groups shared their ideas and projects with each other and partnership opportunities emerged.

Projects Led by Community Champions

Great ideas come to life when someone is willing to drive them. The projects listed below were voted as high priorities through the Survey and the Planning Day, and each has a group or champion ready to take it forward.

Many great ideas for projects were identified in talking with the community. Each of them with the potential to build community capacity and meet the needs of different residents. However, unless someone is prepared to take the idea and be its champion it will remain a great idea. A list of the project ideas can be found in Appendix 1: Project Themes, Specific Projects, Champions and Type of Action above.

Below are key projects identified by the community and a champion or group have indicated to move the project forward

Focus Area 1: Re-establish the Foster Community Association

Project name	Re-establish the Foster Community Association
Description	To re-establish the Foster Community Association by April 2026 to act as an auspicing body for community groups in Foster
Why it's important	A Community Association acts as the main voice for the community when dealing with groups like Council or the State Government. It can also support smaller community groups by taking care of the formal requirements and paperwork, allowing those groups to focus on getting things done.
Key Strategies	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Establish interest in the re-establishment of the Foster Community Association• Develop a plan to outline a clear path forward• Communicate the plan with the community
Who might be involved / champions	Joanne Stringer – Current Secretary of FCA (currently inactive) , Emma McKay, Kerry Hill, Rosemary Brooks, Luke Hannigan
Possible partners	South Gippsland Shire Council & Foster Chamber of Commerce
Measures of Success	The FCA is formed and active by April 2026. The Foster Community Plan is being used to drive key projects
Timeframe	April 2026 and beyond – Short term for re-establishment and medium and long term for possible projects

Supported by

Focus Area 2: To erect shade sails at the Foster Pool

Project name	Erect shade sails at the Foster pool
Description	Erect shade sails over the Foster Pool (where exactly)
Why it's important	As people become more aware of the importance of sun safety, it affects how they use the pool. Without proper shade, spending a long time at the pool isn't a safe or responsible option.
Key Strategies	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identify possible funding opportunities• Source quotes for the product and the installation• Work with Council and the funders to complete the project
Who might be involved / champions	Foster Pool Committee
Possible partners	South Gippsland Shire Council, Victorian State Govt, Department of Sport and Recreation
Timeframe	Medium term
Resources Needed	~ $60,000
Measures of success	Shade sails installed for the summer season of 2026/27

Supported by

Focus Area 3: Revegetation of Stockyard Creek

Project name	Revegetation of Stockyard Creek
Short description	Remove the weeds and revegetate Stockyard Creek with indigenous plants
Why it's important	Revegetating Stockyard Creek is important because it protects the environment, improves the area for recreation and strengthens the community's connection to this natural space and supports the platypus community in the creek.
Key Strategies	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Establish volunteer group / capacity• Work with Council, Landcare and the Catchment Management Authority (CMA)• Develop a project plan
Who might be involved / champions	Corner Inlet Landcare
Possible partners	South Gippsland Landcare, Catchment Management Authority
Timeframe	Short term
Resources Needed	Funds to purchase plants
Measures of success	Stockyard Creek will be free of weeds and planted with indigenous plants

Supported by

Focus Area 4: Upgrading the Foster War Memorial Arts Centre

Project name	Upgrade the arts centre (FWMAC),
Description	Plan for future re-development and action current strategies to ensure the FWMAC is able to service key community activities.
Why it's important	The FWMAC is a key facility in Foster . It houses FAMDA and U3A as well as many regular community events and activities that support community wellbeing.
Key Strategies	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Use the current Strategic Plan to direct activities• Build community support for the proposal• Advocate for support
Who might be involved / champions	The Foster Hall Committee
Possible partners	South Gippsland Shire Council Arts Victoria User Groups
Timeframe	Both short and long term
Measures of success	Council commits to a re-build plan

Supported by

Focus Area 5: Building the Colin Hall Pavilion

Project name	Colin Hall Pavilion
Description	Constructing a 12m x 6m shed divided into 2 sections: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. environmentally controlled storage area2. Display area for collection of agricultural equipment
Why it's important	This space is vital for storing over 100 yrs of copies of the Mirror and a growing collection of items as a place of deposit for Public Records Office Victoria.
Key Strategies	Raise funds and build awareness
Who might be involved / champions	Foster Historical Society
Possible partners	Bendigo Bank, Rotary, Lions and RSL
Timeframe	Short to medium
Measures of success	Completion of building and fitting out of facility

Current Projects with Champions

There are many community groups in Foster who cater for a wide range of interest areas. This Plan has not captured all these activities

The Community Planning Group recognises that these groups are crucial to the social, mental and physical wellbeing of our residents and have current or pending projects and are active in the community.

Another tool used on the day to gather ideas and questions from the community.

Two key ideas that emerged were rebuilding the Foster War Memorial Arts Centre so it can be used for a wider range of activities and extending the footpaths out to the Foster Cemetery and further.

People also raised the question: “What should happen to Wilson Park?” and “Does Foster have a Fire Management Plan?”

“Skate Park at Station Park, built with thought it could service all the interest and, communities, communities from kinder age to adult.”

Next Steps

The Plan will be handed to the Foster Community Association and can be used to guide activities over the next 3 years. Council may use the Plan to inform decisions related to Foster and community groups can use the data collected to support funding applications.

To ensure relevance it is envisaged that the following will occur.

- Annual community check-in
- Progress report published on website or Facebook
- Plan updated every 3 years

Acknowledgements

The Community Planning Group would like to thank everyone who helped develop the plan. Manna Gum Community House also provided practical and in-kind support as did the Community Strengthening Team at Council.

Thanks to those who contributed financially and in-kind:

- Community Bank Toora and Foster
- Foster RSL
- Manna Gum Community House
- South Gippsland Shire Council
- Virginia and Paul Odwyer

We are especially grateful to the volunteers who generously gave their time to represent their groups and support the process.

Help Shape Foster's Future!

A Foster Community Plan is in the works and we want your ideas, hopes and big dreams.

Whether it's better footpaths, more local events, a thriving economy or simply keeping that special Foster feel, this is your chance to speak up. Your input will help create a shared vision for our town and guide the coordination of future projects.

Take the quick survey and tell us your thoughts.

Save the date! We'll be sharing the survey results (and much more!) at the Foster Community Planning Day Saturday 15 November 2025, Foster War Memorial Art Centre Hall Come along, continue the conversation, and find out how you can get involved in making things happen.

Thanks for your contribution – it really matters.
